Deep Stigma

Mental illness associated only with visibly severe conditions

Millions of Ghanaians are affected by mental health conditions, where they suffer in silence with depression, anxiety, trauma, suicidal thoughts and the likes - too afraid of being labelled or excluded to seek help. Safe spaces, trained support, and destigmatised conversations remain scarce and inaccessible for most. The Thriving Network GH was founded to change that.

The Thriving Network GH exists because mental wellness is not a privilege — it is a right.

A NOTE FROM OUR FOUNDER

"I faced a dark moment in my own life. It was only through the courage to open up and seek help that I found my way back to myself. I knew there were others carrying the same weight in silence, afraid of being judged, afraid of being labelled. In Ghana, mental health has long been seen as something only for those visibly unwell. I wanted to create a judgment-free community space where people could simply come, release, breathe, and be heard. That is what The Thriving Network GH is."

Founder & Executive Director | The Thriving Network GH

ABOUT THE THRIVING NETWORK GH

What began as a simple status post inviting people to a judgment-free mental health conversation has grown into a thriving registered NGO with over 100 members, consistent monthly sessions, professional counselling, and outreach programmes reaching individuals across Ghana.

We serve individuals, families, students, professionals, and institutions — providing education, advocacy, direct support, and evidence-informed programming that creates lasting change.
